

DATA PRIVACY STATEMENT

www.deltaenergysystems.com is a product of Delta Energy Systems (Germany) GmbH.

Our company, Delta Energy Systems (Germany) GmbH (hereinafter referred to as Delta Energy Systems) thanks you for visiting our website and expressing interest in our company, products and services. We are committed to protecting the personal information we collect, process and use when you visit our website.

We collect, process and use your data in accordance with German statutory legal provisions, which you can learn more about at www.datenschutz.de.

In the following, we explain which information we collect when you visit our website and how this data is used:

1. Collection and use of data (including personal information)

Each time a user accesses the Delta Energy Systems website, and each time a user accesses a file, data about this process is logged in a file. This data is stored exclusively for internal, system-related and statistical purposes. Specifically, records of the following are saved for each download:

- Name of the file downloaded
- Date and time of the download
- Volume of data transferred
- Report on the success of the download
- Description of the type of Web browser used
- Requesting domain

This information is collected exclusively for purposes of data security and improvement of our website. Additional personal data such as your name, your address, telephone number, or e-mail address are not collected; unless you provide this data voluntarily, e.g. when you voluntarily log on, sign up for a newsletter or survey, conclude an agreement or request information.

2. Use and transfer of personal information

If you have provided us with personal information, we use this information solely for the administration of our website and the fulfillment of your requests and requirements, in particular for completing the agreement concluded with you or responding to your inquiries.

Your personal data will not be transferred, sold or otherwise disclosed to third parties, unless

- It is necessary for fulfillment of contract obligations. For example, when you order products, we may need to forward your address and order data to our suppliers.
- It is necessary for billing purposes.
- You have provided prior consent.

You are entitled to withdraw this consent at any time, effective immediately.

Your personal information will be deleted if

- You revoke your consent to storage of the data
- Your personal information is no longer required for the purpose for which it was originally stored
- The data may no longer be stored for other legal reasons

3. Right to information

Upon written request, we will gladly provide you with information on the data we have stored about you (e.g., name, address, telephone number, date of birth).

4. Automatically collected non-personal information, generation of cookies, utilities, active content

When you access our website, information is collected automatically (i.e., not via registration) which cannot be used to identify a specific individual (e.g., type of Web browser or operating system, domain names of websites from which you linked to our site, number of visits, average time spent at the site, pages viewed). Our company uses this information to continually improve and update the website and make it more attractive.

When you visit our website or websites, we may store information on your computer in the form of "cookies," which let us automatically recognize your computer the next time you visit our site. For example, cookies enable us to adapt a Web page to your needs or store your password so that you do not have to reenter it each time you visit. The purpose of these cookies is to give you the best possible user experience.

If you do not want us to recognize information about your computer, please set your Internet browser so that it will delete cookies from your hard disk, block all cookies or warn you before a cookie is stored. Please note, however, that doing this may affect the way the website is displayed or limit its functionality.

If you leave our site by clicking on a link or advertising banner and enter a third-party site in this manner, cookies may be placed on your computer by the third-party site. We are not legally responsible for these cookies. Please see the data privacy statements of our advertising partners for information on the use of such cookies and the information stored in them.

No link is made to personal information and the activities of a user cannot be traced.

You may also explicitly request to have your username permanently saved in a third cookie when you log on. This makes logon easier if you use the site frequently, since your user name is automatically entered and you are only required to enter your password. However, we must warn you that this method carries risks, as your logon credentials could be misused by third parties.

Delta Energy Systems provides you with a variety of applications. Data may be exchanged between these applications.

5. Changes to this data privacy statement

This data privacy statement may be changed from time to time. We will not restrict your rights under these data privacy terms without your explicit consent. Changes will be published here. For this reason, you should access this site regularly to view the latest version of our data privacy statement.

6. Note on security

We strive to protect your personal information by taking all technical and organizational measures to store your personal information in such a way that it cannot be accessed by third parties. If you communicate with us by e-mail, we cannot guarantee the complete confidentiality of data transmitted using this means of communication. Therefore, we recommend sending confidential information solely by conventional mail.

7. Contacting us

If you have questions about how your personal information is collected, processed or used, or if you would like to request information or wish to have your information corrected, blocked or deleted, please contact our data privacy officer by e-mail at datenschutz.germany@delta-es.com.
